Born in Madrid, 1990.

- The work of Manuel Franquelo Giner focuses on pondering, from several disciplines, about problematics, debates and questionings that surround contemporary sustainability. His work moves from personal critique and common dialogue to imagine the limits of our present bioethics. Paintings, drawings, sculptures and installations developed from the so called new media suggest, from a concern perspective about the environment, to meditate about this aparent remoteness, increasingly closer, fragile and violent.
